Domain Name Selection

One of the most important things you can do for your online business is pick the right domain name. Ideally it should a.) Be easy to remember, b.) Be short as possible, c.) Contain your markets keywords, d.) Descriptive

In most situations, Go with .com over .net, or other top level domain extension. If available don't only buy .com, but also, .net, .us, .tv, .org. This helps lock in your branding (even though you may never use them), and prevent a competitor from coming in and hijacking your market.

Domain Selection Myth: "All the good domains are gone..." Use this matrix with the 40 pre and post keywords to brainstorm your domain name ideas. Consider modifying your favorite unavailable .com domain name using this matrix. Print it out, and start writing. When you are done, then go and see what is available, you might be surprised what you find.
